EDITORIAL

Thanks to the conservationists

In spite of calamitous front pages of daily papers, all is not lost -- a refreshing fact which Thanksgiving reminds us of. Accentuate your blessings this Thanksgiving, for most everybody has some to count.

Living in the Carmel Valley-Carmel area is certainly one blessing to appreciate. Another is the fact that there are conservation organizations continually on the alert to preserve its beauty.

In this connection comes a timely message from the local Audubon Society, which is concerned about the wildlife refuge in the lagoon area at the Carmel River State Beach. Here is the word from Elgin B. Hurlbert, Conservation chairman of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society.

"Audubon Society, Sierra Club and State Park personnel are concerned at the increasing activities of people in the Carmel River State Beach area, principally that part involving the lagoon and its marshy and reed filled backwaters

Human traffic down the dry bed of the river, over into the salicornia marsh, and among the reeds is disturbing the wildlife.

Concerned persons are urged to call the Pt. Lobos Reserve State Park, 624-4909, if intruders are observed "Disturbing" wildlife within the lagoon. (Chasing, throwing sticks or stones, shooting, etc., or allowing dogs at large.) Call Fish & Game, 373-0901, if shooting of birds is noted.

Call the Sheriff's Office, 375-2241, if any shooting is done in the vicinity, or if discharging of firearms is noted, with attendant disturbance of birds on the lagoon, or in the reed or marshy area.

Report to the Point Lobos State Reserve office any observation of persons with firearms, spears, slingshots or any other similar impedimenta, if within the limits of the State Beach or lagoon. It is unlawful to possess such within a State Park.

Any discharge of firearms in the vicinity of an inhabited residence is a violation of the law-the sheriff's office has jurisdiction outside Carmel city limits-Carmel City Police if within their limits.

General "boating" is not encouraged in the lagoon, although the use of floats, life rafts and mattresses by very small children does not pose much of a problem to wildlife. It is only when such floating equipment is used to gain access to the marshy or reedy areas across the lagoon that disturbances occur which can be serious enough to cause the birds, particularly waterfowl and marsh species, to abandon the sanctuary."

Outlook for the week.

A lively ghost

The Carmel Valley Village Committee is not exactly defunct, as The Outlook indicated last week. Bob Kvenild, its most recent president, pointed out that some of its important services are definitely going on. Although it isn't still collecting the $15.00 monthly dues from members, it has a liquid treasury from past dues, augmented with some other contributions, which is being used for Village beautification.

For instance, local Cub Scouts have come up with about $100, which was invested in plantings in the Bank of America area. The CV Chamber of Commerce contributed $50, CV Commercial Property Owners Association $75 and Harry Geim of the Mobil Station $85, which, under the direction of the Village Committee, went into landscaping the intersection of Del Fino Pl. and CV Rd.

Past trees planted are also being cared for and watered by the Village Committee.

The Village Committee is a very lively ghost.

TO THE EDITOR

Good idea!

To The Editor:

Can you imagine how you'd feel if you were a Service-man in Vietnam during the holidays?

Imagine further, that you received a card from- say your next door neighbor, or family doctor, or an old High School friend. Wouldn't it "kinda" warm your year?

I would surely appreciate receiving the address of every Carmel Valley man who is or will be stationed in Vietnam. I would compile a list of these alphabetically and ask The Outlook to publish them.

For others of you who'd like to add a name to your Christmas card list, you could warm that heart of the man who'd like to be home--but can't.

If it's convenient to hand it to me while you might be doing your business at the Carmel Valley Branch of the Bank of America, that would be great.

Otherwise mail it to Mrs. Leonard Rhoades, 65 Upper Circle, Carmel Valley, Calif. 93924.

The sooner the better. It matters to them to know we care.

Thanks,

Evelyn B. Rhoades

THANKSGIVING 1968

Let us give thanks for this bounteous feast,
Thanks that our blessings are thereby increased,
Grateful that we are together, at least,
With prayers for the loved ones not with us.

So let us give thanks for each other this day
That none may be taken or wander away,
While hoping for peace yet we constantly pray
For strength understanding can give us.

We have no assurance or claim as a right
Beyond that the morning will follow the night;
So all that we have we can count in the light
Of privilege, luck, and good guessing.

Whatever the future may hold for us here,
Rejoice for today and not entertain fear;
And if there are problems not perfectly clear,
There's plenty to count as a blessing.

And if in the midst of our plenty we find
A thought for the balance of all humankind,
To see that one stranger has properly dined,
Our thanks may then warrant expressing.

The Magic of Carmel

Christmas brings a very special magic to the village of Carmel-by-the-Sea, for its hilly streets that are dark at every other season suddenly bloom with light.

Ornaments in the varying traditions of every corner of the globe decorate houses, trees, and windows.

Gifts from every country of Europe, the Orient, the Islands, fill every need and satisfy every whim.

Music pours from the schools and churches. Good cheer abounds in restaurants and homes.

Friends become companions;
acquaintances become friends.

In the background is the original magic of ocean, sky, and trees, with mild, sunny weather to set them off.

It's Christmas in Carmel -- it's wonderful!

Upper Valley Advisory Board approves 2 house variances, church use of Baez school

It was clear sailing for three applicants before the Upper Valley Advisory Board meeting Friday morning at the Community Center.

Approved were requests from Dr. Darrell Jewett for a variance for reduction in sideyard requirements for an addition to his Garzas Rd. home and from Dr. David Taylor for another side-yard variance and a use permit for a caretaker residence.

Also approved was a use permit for Subud California Church to use the School for Non-Violence building for meetings Tuesday and Friday evenings from 8 to 10:30 p.m. The only limitation was the church permit would expire when the School for Non-Violence permit expires.

Subud Church is a spiritual brotherhood, it was explained, which invites members of all denominations to worship together, including Christians, Jews, Moslems, etc. It is not a religion or philosophical group as such, it was said, for the group chiefly worships together.

Subud started in Indonesia about 20 years ago by a man named Batak.

Peter Grafstein of Carmel Valley is the local agent.

CVPOA opposes reduction in lot size in new Hidden Hills subdivision units from 2½ to 1 acre

Carmel Valley Property Owners Association voted at its quarterly meeting Thursday night at the Community Center to oppose the appeal at the board of supervisors Tuesday of Ed Hogan to reduce lots from two and a half acres each to one acre for units of Hidden Hills subdivision on Los Laureles Grade.

Telegrams were sent to the board of supervisors and to local Supervisor Willard Branson opposing the change on the grounds that street standards have been based on the larger-lot size.

A delegation of Valleyites, headed by Pres. Emil Hanson of CVPOA, planned to appear at the supervisors' hearing scheduled at 2 p.m. Tuesday. The hearing, continued from Oct. 29, involved policy relating to density and private road standards throughout Monterey county.

The supervisors Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. have also slated a hearing on the proposed extension of interim zoning ordinance for the Jamesburg area.

FUTURE GROWTH

County Road Commissioner Bruce McLain said that daily car counts at the mouth of Carmel Valley has increased from 9,000 to 12,000 in the past three years and could generate 80,000 car movements a day with ultimate development.

The two new Lombardo golf courses, scheduled in the near future near the Valley mouth, will add 1,000 car movements a day, he predicted.

McLain said he hopes to present plan lines for a north-south road through Canada de la Segunda to the county planning commission next spring. Such a road would probably relieve CV Rd. of about 1,000 cars a day, he predicted, but would not remove necessity for ultimate state development of a Hatton Canyon freeway or scenic way.

CV Planning Commissioner Dr. Ed Marcucci said he favors changing Los Laureles Grade Rd. to scenic highway status plus the eventual Hatton Canyon Rd.

Joseph K. Allen of Utah Construction Co., which is planning the 4,000-acre Monterra development out from Monterey, said that the originally-planned 10,000 residential units have been scaled down to 7,900 in accordance with Monterey's wishes.

CV AFFECTED

Monterey City Planning Director Dick Garrod said that the city and Utah Construction Co. are nearing formal agreement on the Monterra plan.

Carmel Valley is being and will be affected by the Monterra development and other surrounding projects, De Marsemphasized, also including Hidden Hills, Los Tulares (a mile east of the Village), whose 69 lots would generate 600 car movements a day, CV Golf and Country area whose eventual population will be an estimated 600, Tierra Grande with 213 lots and potential towards the Skyline area, the Odello-Fish-Hudson at the mouth of the Valley, the 20,000-acre San Carlos Ranch whose eventual development plan has been approved by the supervisors, and Carmel Views and High Meadows.

● Kiwanis

Annual installation dinner for Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club will be held Friday evening Dec. 13 at Rippling River Lodge. George Clifford will be installed president, succeeding Kevin Walsh. Ladies are invited to the banquet.

Ed Tregenza, Salinas historian, spoke to the club Tuesday about "The Good Old Days in the Salinas Valley." He said that the Salinas River was navigable above Spreckles until the 1906 earthquake caused slippage and changed its course.

Much of the commerce and products of the area moved by barge to a terminal at Moss Landing. Material and machinery for the Spreckles sugar plant came up the river. The quake changed the river mouth to its present location near Ft. Ord, the speaker said.

Tassajara Hot Springs and Paraiso Hot Springs were operating before the turn of the century, Tregenza said, when getting to these resorts was a major journey.

The Carmel Valley Village area was once used by the National Guard as a camp ground, he reported, in the days when a trip to Carmel Valley was an undertaking.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

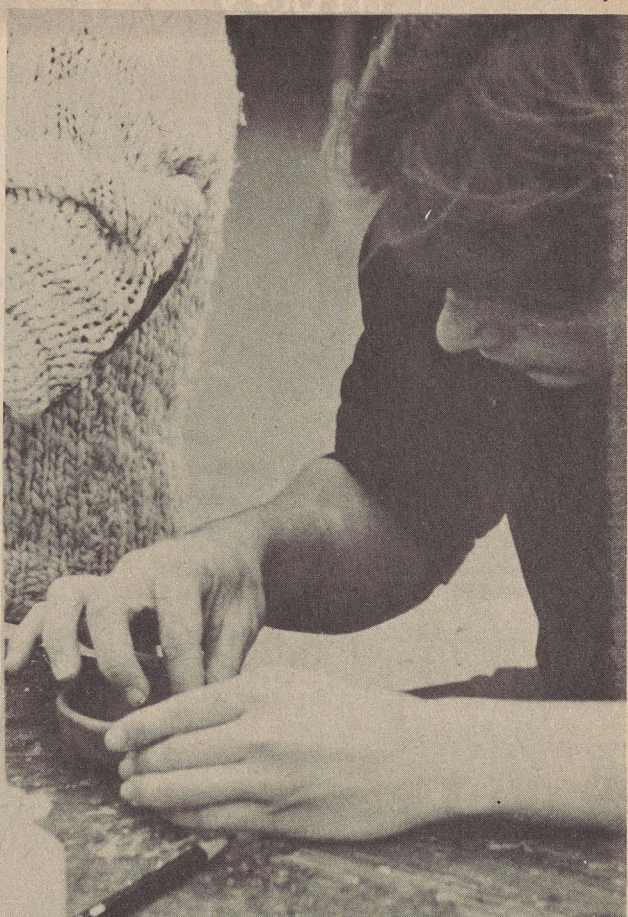

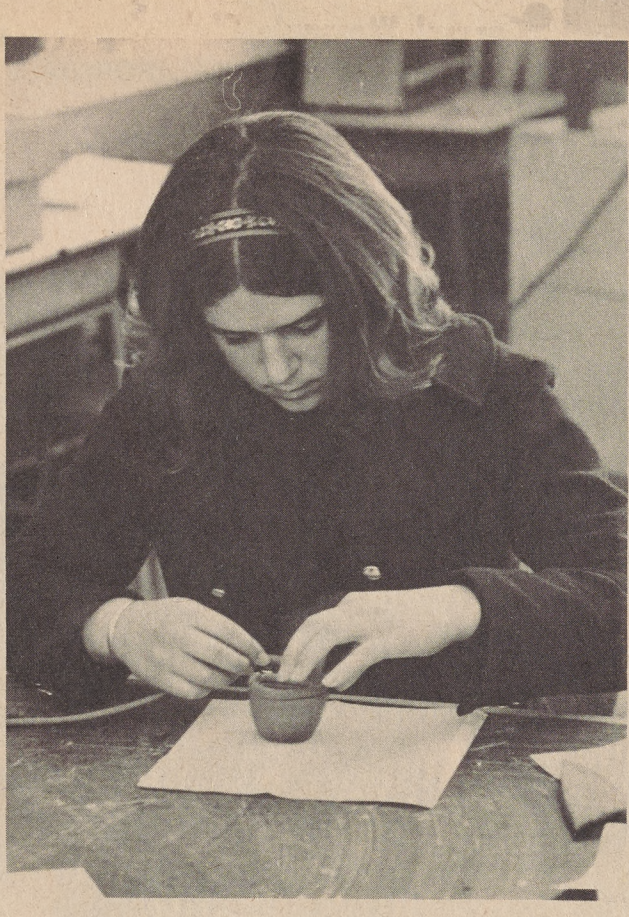

High school potters inspire grade schoolers to creative activity

Cookery

Corner

Featuring the favorite recipes of local cooks.

MRS. STEPHEN MCCANN (Tinka) of Palo Colorado Canyon is much better known on the Peninsula for her work as a promoter of nursery schools (her book "Open the Door and See All the People," is being prepared for publication), than she is as a cook.

But she also writes a newsletter for the Monterey Bay Chapter of the National Health Federation, and as a "health food nut" she has a collection of recipes that are not only delicious... they are just what the doctor would order for holiday eating that doesn't jeopardize healthy living.

Here is one for a steamed pudding which puts grandma's suety conglomeration to shame. It's light and airy and full of good-for-you-ingredients. It's easy to fix now for Thanksgiving and to freeze for Christmas giving and entertaining.

GENEVA'S CARROT PUDDING

MIX:	2 Tbls. dry yeast	MIX:	1 and 1/2 cups w.w. or other flour

and	2 tbs. lemon juice	OVER:	1/4 tsp. salt
MIX	2 tbs. any fruit juice		1 cup raisins
	1/2 cup honey		1 cup currants
	1/3 cup vegetable oil		1 cup walnuts

Mix the whole gizmatch together. Fill oiled cans 1/2 to 3/4 full, set in pan of hot water several inches up the sides of the cans, cover with foil and boil for 2 and 1/2 to 3 hours, then set in 300 degree oven for 15 minutes.

TINKA'S FRUIT-NUT COOKIES
(unbaked)

These are wonderfully nutritious confections....ideal for mailing to overseas servicemen or impoverished college students. You may like to explore your local health food store to find some of the exotic "optional" ingredients.

	1/2 cup water (more or less)
	1 cup dates of other dried fruits
	2 T. veg. oil (sesame seed or peanut oil preferred)
	1 tsp. vanilla
ADD, feeding into blades,	1/2 cup sesame seed
	1/2 cup butter
SIFT and add optional	1 T. fresh rice polish
	1 T. rose hip powder
	2 T. lecithin powder
	1 T. carob powder (chocolate substitute)

opens in CV Village

Newest business to open in Carmel Valley Village is the Village Art Center, an artist supply store, owned and operated by Glen H. Mewhinney.

It is in the Village Plaza building on Del Fino Pl., in the former location of the Origins Shop, which moved to Carmel.

Mewhinney operated an art supply store in Spokane, Wash. and also taught craft classes for the Spokane park department, for the YWCA and at his own studio.

Before opening his Carmel Valley store, he opened and managed Balesteri's Gallery and Wharf Crafts on the Monterey pier for nearly two years.

wax" metal casting, polyester resin work, candle making, Swiss straw creations and and making flowers of feathers, tissue and ribbon.

Mewhinney plans, in addition to operating his art supply store to establish a craft workshop here. "I'll find out what people are interested in and go from there," he said. "If I can't teach the particular crafts wanted, I'll try to find qualified instructors to handle these classes."

Offered in his store is a complete line of art supplies, including oils, watercolors, acrylics, sketch pads, canvas, matting materials and frames.

His wife has been an employee of Pacific Telephone Co. for 20 years and transferred from Spokane to the Monterey office. They have one daughter.

A native of Pullman, Wash., he had a pleasant taste of California when majoring in chemistry at Santa Barbara State College, now UC at Santa Barbara.

After college, he worked in office management and sales, particularly in "medical detail", briefing doctors and others in the medical profession on new medicines. He covered Washington, Wyoming, and Idaho.

During a period of illness, he took up crafts and decided to go into them professionally. He instructed pottery, "lost

WEDDING

Alameda will be the home of "justweds" Mr. and Mrs. Timothy P. Brown who were married November 9 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in that East Bay City.

The bride, the former Lee Alta Fuller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Schaffer of Country Club Drive in the Valley. Mrs. Cecilia Brown of Alameda is the mother of the groom.

A cascade arrangement of gardenias and white baby roses was carried by the bride who chose a floor length gown of peau de soi trimmed with Chantilly lace and pearls. Her cathedral length train was appliqued with lace. Her shoulder length veil was caught with clusters of pearl trimmed petals.

Her sister, Marilyn Schaffer of the Valley served as a bride's maid with Nancy Baker and Penny LaFors, both of Alameda. Carolyn Casement, also of Alameda was maid of honor.

Mike Sheridan was best man. He is from Alameda as were the ushers, Bill Kearley, Steve Conhaine, and Don Sherratt. A reception followed the 1 p.m. ceremony at the Alameda chief petty officer's club.

Lee was a stewardess with World Airways before her marriage. Tim was graduated from the IBM's training school in San Francisco.

Many showers and pre-nuptial events were given for the young couple in the Bay area before their wedding.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

There is nothing so enjoyable as the celebration of a birthday when (a.) it is someone elses and (b.) the celebrant appears more youthful and enjoys life more with each passing year. The latter perfectly describes Mrs. Mathew A. Little who enters that special realm with the octogenarians on December 7. "Frankie" as she is known to her many Valley friends made during the visits with her daughter Doris Bundgard and family on Live Oak Lane has a very special day planned with family members who will gather in Sacramento to bring her their best wishes. Valley-ites wishing to participate in a birthday card shower may address them to: 1101 Vallejo Way, Sacramento, Calif. 95818.

Los Angeles was chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feldman and their son, Michael for a recent week's vacation. The Aliso Road family enjoyed Disneyland, Knott'sberry Farm, and stops enroute home at Pismo Beach and Solvang.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

An "old oak leaf cluster" to the Tanda Camp Fire Girls whose community spirit brought a great deal of happiness to the patients at the Monterey Convalescent Hospital. The girls spent one meeting gathering dried materials and the second arranging them into miniature bouquets in decorated peat pots for the elderly patients' bedside stands.

Accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Rex Pryer, the girls presented their Thanksgiving gifts last Tuesday and serenaded the patients.

Among those working on the project were Lori Davis, Robin Harris, Leslie Bussinger, Stella Wallace, Natasha Granoff, Clare Martin, Jill Janic, Winifred Reuter, Nancy Pryer, and Laura Sherman. The girls are all working toward their trail seekers rank and fulfilled part of the requirements on a bike hike down to the Trail and Saddle Club grounds for a picnic lunch.

22ND GRANDCHILD

Kristin Gayman arrived October 24th at the Community Hospital bringing the count of grandchildren to "22" for Mrs. Dorothy Conway and Mr. and Mrs. Cairl Edgin, all of Pacific Grove. Kristin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Gayman who live on Lobos Drive in Pacific Grove. Kermit grew up in the Valley and attended local schools. His brothers, Dick and Kirk and their families (part of the famous 22!) all reside here. Helping to welcome the baby girl is a twenty month old brother, Steven.

NSTA HEAD

A resident of La Rancheria, Albert Baez, has been named chairman of the International Activities Committee of the National Science Teachers Association for 1968-69. NSTA dedicates itself to identifying areas of international concern with which it, as the world's largest organization, can further the advancement of science education.

RAT FAMILY

Miss Bianca and Mr. Bernard proudly announce the arrival of their first offspring... four to be exact...in the kindergarten suite of Tularcitos Elementary! Miss Bianca and Mr. Bernard are rats, named by the children for the hero and heroine of the book by Marjorey Sharp, "The Rescuers."

Much research has gone into the proper care and feeding of the new rat family under the guidance of their teachers, Miss Sallie Witter and Mrs. Barbara Wilson. There is a long waiting list (with & without parent approval) for Bianca's children!

The afternoon "K" session celebrated National Book Week on Wednesday by taking a field trip to the Village Library where they were greeted by Mrs. Louva Huntington, children's Librarian for the Monterey County. The children received instructions on the use of the Valley branch and enjoyed story time with Mrs. Huntington.

POTLUCK DINNER

Mrs. Margaret Bennett was hostess to members of her Spanish class from the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies who came to her Laurel Drive home Wednesday evening for a potluck dinner. The guests had selected a Mexican menu with Mexican records providing the dinner music, followed by community Spanish folk singing to the accompaniment of the guests' guitars. Attending were Miss Linda Davis, Miss Helene Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, Miss Denise Monfette, Miss Suzanne Olmondson, Miss M. Sanchez, Mrs. Ann Monk, Miss Debbie Pettibone, Frank Bedard, and Greg Byrne.

RELIGIOUS ART--Plans are already well under way for the Naval Postgraduate School's Sixth Annual Religious Art Show to be held from Jan. 20-31. Examining one of the entries, a driftwood sculpture by Nick A. Guastella entitled "Mater Dolorosa," are exhibit co-chairmen Mrs. B. R. Googins (left) and Mrs. R. J. Armacost, and Father Joseph F. Cloonan, the school's Catholic Chaplain. Local artists are invited to enter paintings, sculpture and crafts into the competition for $500 in awards. For further information, write the Catholic Chapel Guild, Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey.

2 posthumous awards made to Capt. Gary Arnold, Carmel

FORT ORD -- Two posthumous awards were made simultaneously recently to Captain Gary W. Arnold of Carmel, an infantry officer killed in action while serving in Vietnam.

Accepting the Legion of Merit and the Purple Heart awards for her husband was Mrs. Gayne M. Arnold. Colonel John N. Knight, assistant chief of staff for operations, United States Army Training Center, Fort Ord, made the presentation.

The Legion of Merit was awarded for "exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services from 26 August 1967 to 11 April, 1968." Captain Arnold was serving as assistant senior advisor to Regional and Popular Forces, Lam Dong Province, Republic of Vietnam. He accomplished many tasks which contributed immeasurably to the combat effectiveness of the province forces. Participating in many hazardous operations to gain a better understanding of troop capabilities, he was able to advise unit commanders on the employment of their forces. Willingly forsaking his own comfort and safety, he moved to Dai Quay outpost with a small advisory detachment to train and advise his Vietnamese comrades in that area. His efforts resulted in many marked changes in the living conditions, health and combat effectiveness of the soldiers assigned."

The Purple Heart was awarded for wounds received in military operations in Vietnam against hostile foreign forces. The wounds resulted in his death on April 11, 1968. The award, first established by General George Washington in 1788 was presented to Mrs. Arnold as "a tangible expression of your nation's gratitude and everlasting appreciation" for her husband's gallantry and devotion in the service of his country.

Anonymous gift starts $20,000 scholarship fund for student employees of Carmel Valley Manor; seven benefit this year

A $20,000 scholarship fund has been established to provide educational grants-in-aid to student employees of Carmel Valley Manor. The Manor board of directors in accepting the anonymous gift to start the fund named President Robert Faul of Monterey Peninsula College, the president of the Manor Resident's Council, and Manor Administrator William D. Pratt, as the committee to make scholarship allocations.

Carmel Valley Manor is the largest employer of student labor in the Carmel Unified School District and has a in-service training program in food services and in nursing care. "Thus, a scholarship program to assist employees to take regular or special college or vocational training courses, is a natural expression of interest and concern," Dr. Pratt said. The Scholarship Fund welcomes additional gifts from individuals who share this same interest in youth.

Manor department heads will serve as an Advisory Committee to counsel young people in vocational opportunities and to make nominations to the Allocations Committee. They are Peter De Haas, food service; Irma Brandt, R.N., nursing; Theodore Gillies, landscaping; Beatrice Pepper, house-keeping; Floyd Lesch, building maintenance, and Louise Lasiter, accounting.

Also serving on the Advisory Committee is Thomas Wood, director of work experience, Carmel School district.

Educational Grants

Last June, educational grants of $250 each were made from a special fund to seven high school graduates who were employees of the Manor. The success of that initial effort led to this program for giving educational aid and the establishment of a permanent scholarship fund.

Excerpts from letters of thanks from the scholarship winners of last summer follow:

Students write "Thanks"

Cathy Brewster who plans to enroll at San Jose State and become a teacher, "I can't tell you how much this gift has uplifted my thoughts for the future. It seems an answer from heaven at this time, since it is exactly what I need to help me through my college expenses next year. My family was beginning to worry about all the expenses I would have to meet. That's why I came to work at the Manor."

Robin Fuller, who planned to attend Monterey Peninsula College: "I am most thankful for your generosity. I have been planning to study art since my main interests are in art history and sculpture and I would like to teach if possible. This gift will be a great help to me. It is so kind of you to take such an interest in my future."

Karla Hollis said: "Thank you very much. I appreciate your concern and interest in my future schooling. I plan to attend Monterey Peninsula College and study to be a dental assistant."

George Porter wrote: "I would like to thank this wonderful person who donated the funds. I was quite worried about my expenses for this fall, but now I can see my way through Monterey Peninsula College. I then plan to transfer to Arizona State to major in physical education. For as long as I can remember, I have wanted to teach sports to children and youth. This grant has really helped me to prepare for college."

Debbie Russell wrote: "I wish to express my heartfelt thanks for your generosity. For the time being I have deposited the gift in savings and I plan to continue working at the Manor to add to the wonderful start you have given me. My plans for future education have been vague, but now I can begin to make plans for the future."

Deep Appreciation

Halie Sherman wrote: "The past 2 and 1/2 years at the Manor have been the most rewarding years of my life and have met some of the most vital and inspirational people I'll ever meet. If I had not worked at the Manor, I am sure I would be on another path, perhaps one of confusion. I would never have found out what I truly wanted to do without these wonderful years. I now plan to start at Hartnell College in September, majoring in sociology and enter nurses training. I want you to know I have never been so touched and grateful."

Janet Tole wrote: "Please express my deepest thanks and appreciation to the anonymous donor of the special educational grant fund. I am going to Monterey Peninsula College next fall and taking a course to be an airline hostess, so this money will give me the opportunity to further my studies and attain my goal."

Gourmetcooking classes slated

The Pacific Grove Recreation Department announced another series of six lectures, "Exciting Adventures in Creative Gourmet Cooking" by Chef Gino Airaldi. The classes are being held each Thursday morning, from 10 til 11:30 a.m. in the Community Center, 515 Junipero Avenue.

Chef Airaldi places emphasis on the unusual but not the difficult. Lecture titles will include cooking with spirits-the wine sauces, elegant desserts, breast of chicken, a la Kiev, Florentine, tricks with prepared noodle dough and sophisticated pancakes.

Registration fee of $8.00 for the six sessions may be paid in the recreation department office in the Community Center. There will be no single admissions to lectures. Further information is available by telephoning 372-2809.

Craftsmen to hold 3-day fun festival

The Monterey County Fine Arts and Craft Festival will this year take the form of a Christmas gift exhibit with craftsmen showing and selling their wares at the LaPlaya Hotel in Carmel.

Billed as "39 Craftsmen bring Christmas," the event will feature among the works of prominent area artists Gus Arriola's original drawing from his cartoon strip "Gordo"; sketches by cartoonist Eldon Dedini, pottery by Rudi Marzi, bronze bells by Denis Wagner, leatherwork by Fred Host and jewelry by Bob Grabowski, and many more examples of ceramics, sculpture, stained glass, woodcraft, wood painting, batik and wall hangings.

A wine preview will open the festival Friday at 6 p.m. when three prizes will be awarded. Additional items, on display throughout the event, will be awarded Sunday night.

Saturday and Sunday the exhibit will be open from 12 noon to 10 p.m.

IN SHORT

DID YOU HEAR about the lady, a newcomer to Carmel Valley, who tried to make a contribution to the Community Chest and got turned down? Someone came collecting at her home, but as the canvasser did not have the newcomer's name on her list, she said she could not take the proffered contribution. The Outlook referred her to Dr. Ed. Marcucci, of the fund drive committee, who was happy to accommodate the lady.

MRS. GUNNAR NORBERG, the happy winner of the $500 purchase prize from the Carmel Art Association gallery, says it will take her a full year to choose a painting from among her many favorites in the gallery. Proceeds from raffle ticket sales will go toward the Art Associations Scholarship Fund.

"WE MAY NOT be Abercrombie and Fitch but we have some unusual and exciting items for sale at our new Science Store", says a dispatch from the Youth Science Center on River Road, Carmel. The store, with the approval of Jolly ol' St. Nick specializes in such goodies as insect collecting equipment, dissecting sets, snake collecting bags, rock tumblers and the like, as well as science books for all ages.
